Cline And Cutler Lead in Billiards

High Run was 153—Police Stop Langford-Shreck Bout—
Doctors Say O'Flaherty's Brain was Affected—Other Sport Notes.

New York, Nov. 23.—Firmen Cassignol, the French billiard champion, and Harry Cline of Philadelphia won the two games played today in the 18.2 ball line tournament for the championship of the world. Cassignol defeated Albert Cutler of Boston, 500 to 412, and Cline defeated George F. Slosson, the local veteran, 500 to 392.

In the Cassignol-Cutler game the Boston player in his ninth inning made the highest run of the tournament thus far—153 points, then failing to get either object ball out of his space. The Frenchman was both deliberate and delicate in his cue work, getting on even terms with his opponent with a run of 97 in the 14th inning. The game then dragged and after the 34th men were tied again with 353 each. Cassignol drew away gradually, with one run of 38, and won the game in the 37th inning.

George F. Slosson, the favorite in the tournament, was defeated by Harry Cline of Philadelphia this afternoon by a score of 500 to 392. The Philadelphia player gave a splendid exhibition of open table and snaring plays in his 11th inning, which netted him 45 caroms, ten of them resulting from three cushion shots. With a carefully played run of 120 in his 31st inning, which was full of brilliant open table work, Cline overtook Slosson and with an unfinished run of 34 ran out the game in the 35th inning.

O'FLAHERTY'S BRAIN AFFECTED.
This is Statement of Harvard Medical Adviser Today—Accounts for Crismon Quarterback's Erratic Playing by Hard Blow He Received.

It is said now that Quarterback O'Flaherty's brain was temporarily affected by an injury in Saturday's football game, which is believed to account for his erratic playing against Yale.

He was unable to remember his signals. Time after time he gave the signals over again, repeating the play just run off, which was demoralizing to the rest of the team.

Captain Fish tried to have him leave the game. "I am all right, Ham," said O'Flaherty, and he refused to quit.

When Dr. Nichols, the team's medical adviser, ran out on the field the first thing O'Flaherty said was "I am all right."

The doctor questioned him. The questions were in the way of a test to see how the Harvard quarterback's mind was acting. "What day is it?"

asked the doctor, and O'Flaherty could not tell him.
O'Flaherty's nose was hit hard. His head was ground into the dirt, and the force of the blow was so great that one of his back teeth was driven out. It affected his brain and he was in no condition to remain in the game, Harvard men say.

CORNELL HEAVIER THAN PENN.
U. of P. Football Cripples Getting In to Shape—Coaches Not Very Optimistic.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The university of Pennsylvania football players who are at Winslow Junction, N. J., preparing for their final game of the season here Thanksgiving day with Cornell, spent today solely in signal practice. No scrimmaging work will be indulged in before the game. With the exception of Scott and Lambertson all the cripples have greatly improved since they were in the hospital. The start in the game, Ramsdell is expected to start at fullback. Hutchins at quarter, Somers and Irwin halves. The other positions probably will be filled by Bradstock and Marks, ends; Pretz and Ferrier, tackles; Pike and Dietrich, guards; Cozens, center. This team will average about five pounds a man less than the Cornell aggregation and the Pennsylvania coaches are not very optimistic over the outlook for victory.

Cornell Hopeful—Not Confident.
Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The Cornell football squad, twenty-five strong, left tonight for Watford, Pa., there to await the Thanksgiving day game with Pennsylvania. Three of the team's best men are still on the sick list, and the most optimistic expression that could be obtained from any of the team's advisers was that "Cornell will put up a mighty hard fight for the honors."

There is little hope that Robb can be used in the game, but Weeks and Seagrave, although hardly fit, will be called upon to take their places.

Yale Beat a Superior Team.
Better in attack, stronger on defense, with team work just as good as that of her adversary, and an individually superior conditioned team, Harvard was beaten through her own fault, the officials' work, though the power of her opponent. Never before has Yale actually beaten a superior Harvard eleven, although on several occasions she has managed to hold them to a tie. Cornell Randall in the New York Evening Post.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

STRENGTH OF WABASH
Helped to Sustain Prices in a Weak Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 23.—The decision against the legality of the Standard Oil company in its present form continued the disturbing influence in the stock market today. It was most acutely manifest in the group of copper and industrial stocks. The reason for this was not that those companies are particularly vulnerable to the effect of the decision in their present form, but that an animated speculation and sharp advances in prices of those stocks have taken place based on the assumption of a coming consolidation of the copper producers on much the same lines as are prohibited by the court's decision of the Standard Oil case. The speculative position in those stocks, therefore, was very vulnerable and not able to benefit from the soothing assurances regarding the ultimate effects of this decision which has come from representatives of capital interests. Assurances were given yesterday with color of authority that the plans for harmonizing the copper interests would be in no wise affected by the new decision. Today, however, assertions were current that the abandonment of the whole project was being considered pending the final clearing up of the questions involved by the appeal of the Standard Oil case to the highest court.

The line of policy towards the question apparently shaping on the part of the corporations failed to entirely reassure speculative sentiment. Eminent corporation lawyers and financial leaders seen united in formulating the view that the consequences of the Standard Oil decision would be so dangerous and so harmful that steps will be taken by the law-making body to obviate them upon its assembling in December. While the authority of this opinion as to the harmfulness to the corporations of the law is recognized in the stock market, the market is less ready to accept it as the probable action of congress. There is recognized the political difficulty that would arise from what would be, in effect, a bill for the relief of the best hated of all the great corporations in the popular estimation. This consideration raises doubts of the readiness with which relief will be obtained from the evils complained of by the corporations and the sweeping application of the terms of the law to all trade combinations. The discussion of the subject develops the difficulty of shaping a legal requirement which will at the same time permit the advantages of co-operation and economic division and secure the benefits sought from competition. Other considerations played little part in the day's market. Wabash preferred stood out as the conspicuous exception to the day's weakness in as prominent a way as did Reading yesterday. Its movement helped sustain prices against the weakening effect of the active liquidation in force at other points. No news was forthcoming to explain the strength of Wabash. The declaration of an extra dividend on Central Railroad of New Jersey rallied Reading from its acute depression. Owing to its share in the benefits through holdings of the stock of Central of New Jersey. The tracing of the course of this disbursement afforded an example of the complications of the interrelations of securities among corporations. The six and a quarter per cent. dividend on the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company provides resources for a two per cent. dividend on Central Railroad of New Jersey stock, while Reading's holdings of the latter stock will entitle it to a sum on the distribution equal to somewhat less than one-half per cent. on the outstanding Reading stock. The movement of Reading implied that this was considered a moderate ground for addition to the considerable advance already scored in the market price of the stock. A rise in New York exchange at Chicago to 25 cents premium per $1.00 showed the relaxation of pressure from the interior upon New York for funds. Foreign exchange rates rose quite strongly in spite of a further decline in London discount rates. The short interest built up in course of the decline furnished a sufficient requirement to work an effective rally in prices. Southern Pacific showed some positive strength on the ground of the strong annual report. Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $4,083,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

TROTTER ASSOCIATION ADOPTS TWO OUT OF THREE HEATS.

Three in Five Heat Races Opposed by Big Majority—National Championship Event Urged.

New York, Nov. 23.—Two out of three heats hereafter will constitute a victory in trotting races recognized by the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeds according to an announcement made at the annual meeting of the association here tonight. In a mail vote received from nearly one-half of the 829 members of the association in the United States, a resolution in opposition to the three in five heat race was registered by a vote of 305 to 52. Some of the ballots even favored a single heat.

The proposal made last year for the establishment of a national stakes for the trotting championship of the United States was renewed. Frank J. Kilpatrick of California urged that the fine breed of Pacific coast trotters should have inducement to meet the winners of the eastern events. There should be contests, he suggested, at Boston, Indianapolis and San Francisco, with Lexington, Ky., for the championship meet.

United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, president of the association, who presided, said that the championship idea had the approval of the association and that the plan would be taken up for consideration when stakes of $20,000 were guaranteed.

Senator Bailey was re-elected president and all other officers were re-elected. Delaware was admitted to membership.

LAGGED FINAL PUNCH.
Yale Team Needed This to Be Called the Greatest Ever.

To close followers of the Yale team the result—two field goals and a safety—was but a confirmation of opinions frequently expressed throughout the season, namely, that the team lacked what is known as the final punch, that is, the ability to drive through a desperate defense for the first down that will lead up to a touchdown. Eleven times Yale was in a scoring position Saturday and eleven times she was forced to close by kicking plays instead of the rushes that might have led to the much to be desired touchdown. It is all very well to say that this was due to the undeniable strength of Harvard's defense. But the thing was manifest against Princeton, whose defense could not be offered as an excuse, and to a lesser degree against West Point and Brown, and even Amherst. In these latter games, though the touchdowns came, they were not scored on those irresistible plunges which have come to be an expected characteristic of all good Yale teams. Had the 1909 team possessed this power along with its versatility and extraordinary football knowledge it might well have been termed a marvelous team. As things stand it will go down in history as one of the most remarkable eleven ever turned out.

Yale won because her men knew many different kinds of football and because, to support the marvelously skillful kicking of Coy, she had a team ready to grasp instantly every fine point of the kicking game. Harvard knew one kind of football and at this she outplayed Yale in the ratio of two yards to one. She knew how to advance the ball by straight snatching rushes and how to stop her opponents' rushes. But of variety of play she had little, and for this reason she lost.

Deciding Game, Baltic vs. Heavyweights.

The Greenville Heavyweights and the Baltic eleven, two football teams that have each only lost one game this season, are to meet on the Baltic gridiron on Thanksgiving morning to settle the question of who is the champion of the state. The contest is a ready this year the Baltics have beaten the Heavyweights, and the Heavyweights have evened it up by trimming Baltic, so that the coming contest may prove one of the most exciting of the season.

The Heavyweights have greatly strengthened their team, as was shown by the game last Sunday on the Cranberry. Baltic will present the same lineup as they have had the whole year with one exception. Red L'Heureux of Jewett City has been signed as left halfback and Baltic will make a good showing when they line up at 10 o'clock with their left, H. Henry at right and Capt. Joe Henry at fullback.

Quarterback Troland Not to Blame.
Capt. Mickey Shea of the Bulkeley football eleven is stirring up a clamor of his quarterback, Troland, and writes a New London paper that Troland is not to be blamed for the loss of the game or any mixup in the signal. He troubles himself with some of the other men on the eleven, who are asleep at the switch. What would the quarter do when the men tried to pull off the play in the opposite direction to that of the signal indicated? Another cause for Bulkeley's poor showing, which is mentioned by Captain Shea is nervousness which attacked some of the players in the first half. It seems the Academy threw such a fright into them when they came to be lined up, that the Bulkeley boys shook in their canvas jackets, and couldn't do themselves credit.

Football Celebrators Pay $50 in Fines.

As a result of the celebration of the Yale-Harvard football game, Suffolk county, Mass., gained $50 in fines on Monday. The corridors of the municipal courts at Boston were crowded all the morning, and it was a long session for the judges. Sixty persons were fined $5 for drunkenness, fifty paid lake amounts for disturbing the peace, fourteen paid $5 for refusing to move on when requested by an officer, and seven were fined the same sum for pulling off the trolleys of electric cars. In all nearly 400 arrests were made during the evening.

Baltic Lightweights Defeated Taftville.
The Baltic Lightweights met and defeated the T. A. C. of Taftville Saturday by the score of 5 to 0. The feature of the game was the playing of Adams at halfback, and also Roy, who went in for a touchdown. He is a second Ted Coy. Higham at end played a brilliant game. The next game was with Jewett City at Baltic. D. Sullivan, referee; E. Kelly, umpire; Innesman, Steffen and McGill; timekeeper, Woods.

Shreck in No Shape Against Langford.

Pittsburg, Nov. 23.—Police tonight stopped the boxing contest between Langford, the negro middleweight, and Mike Schreck, after half an hour of fighting in the first round, on account of Schreck's apparent lack of condition. Langford in the brief period of boxing twice knocked Schreck down and pummeled him at will.

Calloway Takes Heavy Punishment.

Boston, Nov. 23.—The ability of Ralph Calloway, colored, of California, to take punishment with gameness enabled him to win a round against Jim Barry of Chicago at the Armory Athletic association tonight, but in the tenth he was knocked out.

The longest kick in the Yale-Harvard game was made by Coy and carried 23 yds.

BEATS KID MURPHY'S THREE STRING DUCKPINS.

Danielson Man Gets Total Count of 412—Better Than Murphy's by 14.

Charles L. Nado of Danielson made a duckpin record on the Center street alleys, Nov. 5, that beats the mark of 398 mentioned in Tuesday's Bulletin as having been made on the Rose alleys by Kid Murphy, and claimed as a state record for duckpins.

Mr. Nado's score, made in the presence of several persons, was as follows for three consecutive strings: 135, 97, 180—412.

GRANEY'S $100,000 OFFER
For Jeffries-Johnson Fight—Wants It in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Eddie Graneley, the prize fight referee, left for New York today with a check for $5,000 which he intends to place as a forfeit for a bid he will make for the Jeffries-Johnson bout. Graneley intimated that the purse he would offer would be at least $100,000. Graneley plans to obtain a permit to hold the fight within the city limits of San Francisco and claims that if he is successful he can afford to bid more than James Coffroth, whose arena is in an adjoining county.

Ty Cobb is Fined $100.
Ty Cobb, outfielder on the Detroit baseball team, Monday at Cleveland, O., was fined $100 and costs for assaulting George Stanfield, a night watchman in a hotel, on the occasion of the Detroit team's last visit to Cleveland. When the fine was announced by Judge Vickery Cobb said he did not have that much money, and the execution of judgment was continued to give the ball player an opportunity to obtain funds. Cobb was indicted on the charge of cutting with intent to wound, following a fight with Stanfield, in which the watchman was stabbed, but in criminal court was allowed to plead guilty to assault and battery. This did away with the necessity of a trial.

Desmond for Referee.

Joe Desmond of this city has been selected to referee the Collins-Barnes wrestling match at Central Village on Thanksgiving day. Burdick of Central Village is to be timekeeper. Collins was in this city on Tuesday looking in fine condition, as he has been training steadily for two weeks.

Highlanders to Train at Athens, Ga.
Athens, Ga., Nov. 23.—Manager Staffings of the New York American league baseball team today completed arrangements for his team to train at Athens next spring. The street railway company will at once provide a suitable park.

ACADEMY CAMPUS NOTES.

"Doc" Thompson, the Taftville boy, now at Yale, will hold down the center position.

Jack Murphy, the big Academy tackle of a year or two ago, will play at guard for Yale Consul.

The football eleven had a session of signal practice on Tuesday in preparation for the game Thanksgiving afternoon.

The quarterback position is to be filled by Burke, who handled that job on the Academy eleven for a couple of years.

Manager Worth has tried to arrange a game for the state championship with the New Britain High school team, but they declined on the ground that their eleven had disbanded.

Tom Aubrey, one of the speediest of Academy sprinters in recent years, will be at halfback, and can be counted upon to electrify the spectators with one of his runs, if he ever gets a good start.

Arthur Robinson, who is manager of the Yale Consolidated team, which plays here Thanksgiving afternoon, is expecting to provide a big attraction by bringing down two of the Yale "varsity" players, Savage and Murphy, for officials.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP.

The Cornell-Pennsylvania game Thursday will mark the formal closing of the season in the east.

The injury to Lilley, who is usually one of the hardest men to knock out, robbed Yale of a pillar of strength. There is no tackle on the gridiron today who is Lilley's equal.—New York Times.

Harvard is planning for another great team next season while Yale is mourning the loss of most of her stars. Unless some pleasant surprises are developed at New Haven, the Elis will
